COLLEGE REPORT November 1977 / Volume 30, Number 9

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

The heat of August is now forgotten. The frost of November brings Thanksgiving to mind. And as the late Ralph McGill, insightful editor of the Atlanta Constitution, once observed, "Thanksgiving is corn, squash, and game from the dark forest. It is Pilgrim faith and toil."

It is good to remember that first Thanksgiving. There were very few who celebrated it. Of the 101 who sailed with the Mayflower only 38 were grown men, two in their 50's. Eighteen married women, three with child, some young bachelors and 31 children (20 boys and 11 girls) rounded out their colony. There were also nine servants, a couple of sailors who left ship and two dogs.

The journey to their new homeland had not heen easy, not even after they reached the American coast, Hudson's river was the original destination but baving narrowly escaped the angry surf at Cape Cod, they sought a safer shore. They had stopped once before and a shore party had found a hasket of indian corn which proved to be their most valuable possession as they limped into Plymouth harbor. Without these seeds they surely would bave starved. Even so, half of the men and eighteen of the women died that first winter and spring,

Who today can imagine the emptiness and silence of the great forest surrounding this little band of pilgrims, or the pain and lonelicess they surely felt looking upon the mounds of earth sheltering those they laid to rest? Yet when the heat of their August was forgotten and the frost of their November spread itself across their hard-cleared patches of crop land, they gathered in one of their pathetic huts, having resolved to make a Thanksgiving. Can we today understand what for? For a small harvest of Indian core planted in hills nourished by fish, for meager rations of wild game snared from the dark forest, for life worth living,

It is good to remember that first Tbanksgiving, especially if we aren't grateful for what we have and areast yet convinced that life is still more than enduring.

Richard Adams, in Watership Down, tells a story about rabbits whose experiences parallel in many ways the trials of the early pilgrims. At the crossroads of their odyssey, he has one rabbit observe, "I have learned that with creatures one loves, suffering is not the only thing for which one may pity them. A rabbit who does not know when a gift bas made him safe is poorer than s slug, even though he may think otherwise himself.

You and I have been made safe by the gifts of our pilgrim forefathers. Lycoming College is made safe by a very special gift, your sons and daughters, nieces and nephews. They will be coming home soon for the holidays. Enjoy their company and see that they make it safely back to the campus.

FREDERICK E. BLUMER President of the College

Preliminary plans for launching a capital gifts campaign to finance construction of a new physical education and recreation center at Lycoming College have been approved by the college board of trustees. The board has authorized the firm of Marts and Lundy, Inc., of New York City, to conduct a study to determine the feasibility of raising adequate funds to construct the new

George P. Flint, director of institutional relations, who will spearhead the fund campaign, said the study, which is expected to take from 8 to 12 weeks to complete, will involve interviews with key community and college officials as well as alumni and other prospective supporters of the campaign. The study is expected to begin in the near future.

Flint said the actual fund drive goal will not be announced until after the feasibility study is completed. However, he said the study will attempt to determine the availability of influential leadership and sufficient pools of volunteers willing to work for a successful conclusion of a $3 to $3.5 million campaign.

He said the study will also attempt to determine the availability of potential major gifts, reveal the degree of support which might reasonably be expected from the various segments of Lycoming's constituency and the receptiveness of that constituency to a campaign at this time. He said it will also help determine answers to other questions which nced to be answered before launching a major capital gifts campaign,

Dr. Frederick E. Blumer, president of the college, also said a decision on an architectural firm to complete plans for the physical education center will be made in the scar future. He said no final decision on the size of the new huilding will be announced until the feasibility study is completed and a campaign goal is determined. The center is expected to be constructed on the south edge of the camous near the former site of Old Maic. The present gymnasium, which will be retained, was constructed in 1923 and is inadequate for present day earollment and recreational activities.

The board, in other action taken during the meeting, approved a comprehensive personnel policy for the administration with the stipulation that the health and accident sec tion be revised, and approved a $4,250,000 operating budget for the fiscal year which contains a small surplus of $34,455, or less than one perceot of the total.

The board also commended the initiative of the administration in dealing with alcohol problems among students and authorized a special committee to continue the evaluation of the procedures the administration bas inaugurated. The committee is expected to study the procedures and report at the spring meeting of the board with specific recommendations on future policy.

partment under one roof. The art department is presently housed in two buildings on the extreme north and south borders of the campus,

The Stroehmann building, located directly across Franklin Street from the southeast edge of the campus, has 26,596 square feet of usable space on the three floors, plus a basement. It also contains a large freight elevator which the president said will be retained for use to transport materials or supplies to be stored on the upper floors.

Dr. Blumer said the college has been considering for the last several years the feasihility of constructing a new huilding to house the art department. When the Stroehmann building became available because of consolidation of the firm's warehousing, it was decided the facility would not only be adequate for the art department but would also provide space for storage and other college use,

The combined purchase price of the structure and the expected expenditures for removation are expected to be less than building a new facility for the art department,

Henovations are expected to be started after final details of the purchase are completed and should be finished sometime next year. perhaps in time for the opening of the 1978-79 academic year.

Football Tops Fall Sports

BRUCE L SWANG

Two of the four varsity fall sports teams. football and field hockey, completed the season at or above the ,500 mark while the jumor varsity football team won its first four games before dropping the final contest of the year for a fine 4-1 record, Coach Frank Girardi's (ootball Warriors concluded their third consecutive winning season with an easy 27-7 win over Western Maryland to give them a 1977 record of 6-3. The Warriors composite mark for the last three years

Lycoming was in the race for the Middle Atlantic Conference championship until the nextto-final game of the year when they lost an 8-7 heartbreaker to undefeated Upsala. The Warriors had carried a 7-0 lead into the final three minutes only to have the Vikings come up with a big 69-yard run from serimmage, the longest of the year by an opponent against a tough Warrior defense which limited the nine teams on the schedule to a total of 43 points. The Upsala runner was finally knocked out of bounds on the six, but four plays later the Vikings scored what proved to be the winning touchdown. The Warriors' hopes for their first MAC title disappeared seconds later when Upsala, disdaining a tie, connected on a two-point pass play for the wio.

Girardi's defensive unit will be hard hit next year with 7 of the 10 seniors on the squad from that group. Six have been starters, including the entire recondary of Ray Radomicki, Jerry McGinn, Dwight Stilwell and Tom Rice. Also graduating from the defense will be Little All-America middle guard Mike Prowant and linebackers Jim Tkach and John Stites. Concluding their intercollegiate football careers from the offensive unit were tackle Barry Belgrade, guard Dominic Johnson, and wide receiver lay Jeffries whose nine touchdown pass receptions during his three-year varsity career established a new school career record of seven set by Tom Carter in 1964-67 and equaled by Jim Bich in 1972-74.

The Warrior field hockey team coached by Chris Undegraff came on strong in late season to win the final three games to break even at 4-1-1. The team had been blanked a three consecutive games going into the anal two weeks before breaking out of the lump to defeat Juniata, 3-2; Mansfield, 3-2, nd Delaware Valley, 2-1. Only two seniors, Cindy Kellogg and Naney Schadler, will be 1 st by graduation, giving the team a solid nacleus of veterans for next year,

Cach Nels Phillips' soecer team had trouble scoring goals and was blanked four times on the way to a 3-10 season. However, two of the wins came in the five-team Northwest Division of the Middle Atlantic Conference and the Warriors at least had the distruction of finishing third behind always tough Elizabethtown, the top team, and second-place Susquehanna, Bart Landzert, a freshman from Franklin Lakes, N.J., was the top scorer for the Warriors with his best individual performance four goals against Wilkes in a 6-5 victory. Bob Losnewich, Erman Lepley, John Bratz, Bill Haines, Steve Jansson and Rou Rusted will be lost by graduation,

Inclement weather and illness combined to make 1977 a frustrating season for cosch Deborah Holmes and her fall tennis team, Rain washed out three of the nine scheduled matches and illoess decimated her squad for several contests and caused a forfeiture to Scranton. The team completed the year w an 0-6 record. One consolation, the square had no seniors and most of the members a expected to return next year.

The Warrior junior varsity football team roared through the first four games with comparatively easy wins before losing its undefeated status in the final game of the season in a 27-12 loss to Lock Haven. The Warriors displayed a potent offense in most of the games with tailback Dave Venezia, a (reshman from Norristown, leading the way with seven touchdowns

WARRIORS SET FOUR INDIVIDUAL FOOTBALL RECORDS IN 1977

Four new school records, two season and two career, were established by individual Warriors on the football field during the 1977 season which ended with Lycomiag winning six and losing three.

Wide receiver Jim Jeffries, a senior from Willinghoro, N.J., ended his intercollegiate playing days in the 27-7 win over Western Maryland by catching a touchdown pass which was the teath scoring reception of his career, He had broken the school record of seven earlier in the season. The old mark was shared by Jim Rich (1972-74) and Thomas Crater Quarterback Frank Morogiello, a junior from Brooklya, N.Y., also established a career record of 15 touchdown passes thrown when he connected twice in the Western Maryland game for six-pointers. Wayne Miller held the previous mark of 14 set in 1964-67. Morogiello, who also holds a single season record of nine scoring aerials established in 1976, was out of action all or most of six games this year because of a hand injury.

Season records for kickoff return average and punt returns were also established during the year, Dwight Stilwell, a senior defensive back from Staten Island, N.Y., improved on his own record of 29 punts returned last year by running back 31 in the season just ended. Tailback Dave Venezia, a freshman from 111 yards for a 27,7 average to erase a 25,8 average set by Thomas Charles in 1971,

VIVIA WALELEURUS:
In order to offer you a gift that is personal, is of lasting value and is of course a bit notaligic we have commissioned a nationally renowned watercolonist to gene in organia scenes of our campus. From these organists, we have reproduced a limited edition of 750 hand-painted watercolor pents which we now make a validable to you — list come. Inst served — at special alimited process.

In the quality fradition of Currier & Ives!

These reproductions are created through a process similar to that used by Curner & Ives just before the turn of the Century. From the original, a littingsamp hale is made of the perhitmen and this is printed on the water color paper. Then a team of watercolorists working under the original artist supervision apply the colors by hand so that each pinit you receive is a unique wivedly colored, hand-rendered work of an Alumni ssociation, Lycoming College, Williamsport, Pa 177D1 Please make checks payable to Lycoming College
